The North American Market Launch happened in April 2021, where the digital airfreight booking platform went live and enabled freight forwarders based in the US and Canada to view and instantly book airfreight capacity in real-time.

CASE STUDY: International Expansion with cargo.one cargo.one's success is soaring!

Here are some interesting facts:

- In December 2020, the company was able to raise $42 million in Series B Funding after a year of remarkable growth
- 6 months before that, they reached $18 million in Series A funding, which was fueled by growing demand for digital distribution as cost pressures and a capacity crunch hit the air cargo industry
- The series B funding was led by Bessemer Venture Partners who were joined by existing investors; Index Ventures, Creandum, Point Nine, and Next47
- Money from the funding was used to expand into North America

- o cargo.one's user base grew 300%, and bookings shot up 700% since last year
- o cargo.one is hiring in 37 different countries

STRATEGY AND OUTLOOK

cargo.one plans to enter the Asia market as they are looking at big airfreight markets, as well as expand more into their Europe Market. There is no firm date for launch into the Asia market, but will happen in the next couple months.

"We will use the funds raised to build on our success in Europe...and deepen the expansion into North America and Asia"
